Fight

Smile

Fight for justice, fight for what is right, but don't fight me
'Cos I won't put up a fight with someone that I love so dearly
Fight for truth, fight for what brings light, but don't fight me
'Cos I won't put up a fight with someone I respect so deeplyAnd forget about the prince who saved the wounded princess
Forget about the books you read at night
This is not a tale about some romantic fantasy
This is real lifeOhohohohohohohoh...
'Cos I won't fight you backBlame it on the weather, or on whoever's guilty, but don't blame me
'Cos I'm not the one to blame, I'm afraid you chose the wrong contender
Blame it on fate, or on whoever's capable of breaking someone's heart to pieces without feeling no remorse
And throw him to the lions or better still burn him at the stakeOhohohohohohohooo
'Cos I won't fight you backAnd forget about the prince who saved the wounded princess
Forget about the books you read at night
This is not a tale about some romantic fantasy
This is real lifeOhohohohohoohohohoSo don't you fight me
Cos I won't fight you
By fighting you'll never get me back
