

Once Upon A Time (feat. Tumi & Zubz)

Chinese Man

Aaaah

Bring out the marching band

Do me some Chinese Man

Shhhh

AaAAAAaaah Once upon a time in this great land

European settlers would set off on a cave man quest

Dutch king summoning Jan Van Beek...

The rest was Queen Elizabeth conquest

As portrayed quite well by Cate Blanchett

Great actress, wait I may digress!

Before that was pyramids and villages where pigmy little men and other such denizens rest

Complex systems of living some fishing some building and others out killing

Matriarchy where the kings were tribe women

Painted art still seen today in tribe Symbols

Its a cycle your beginning is your ending and your interim

Your appearance is a historic coincidence

But they link it to your incorrect conditioning

Now everybody screaming racism as a consequence

Bring out the marching band

Let 'em play an anthem for our continent

You went and botched the plan

Liberate the mind, but forgot the land

Bring out the marching band

Let 'em play an anthem for our continent

Why you dun' botch the plan

Liberate the land, but forgot the man Feel the momentum of an unspent force

A liberation found another one get lost

Magazine kept while the gun get tossed

Perpetual previsions of the sunset clause

No wonder they demand more

Nobody planned for

Resilient cuts in the pubic crotch of the land court

In a Mexican stand-off

Picture a poverty stricken finger

Twitching on hair pin trigger

And pause...

Can't deny my stress

I know better than to blame, the wild Wild West

As to reign the higher address as a mind set

Bigger the jail, the less serious the crimes get
So the tumbleweed rolls through these empty streets
They shot the sheriff all we have is the deputy
And he definitely does not want to rock the boats
So we work hard chopping bloat and forget we plead
Bring out the marching band
Let 'em play an anthem for our continent
You went and botched the plan
Liberate the mind, but forgot the land
Bring out the marching band
Let 'em play an anthem for our continent
Why you dun' botch the plan
Liberate the land, but forgot the man
He bought a range but his aim's off for the plane
But it ain't take off JFK straight shot
Great Lakes paying for it, hate makes the air foggy
NSA takes notice, play it safe same result
So David Blane got the rainbow sold to y'all
You can rise away till the Neuralizer tapers off
Break a law, take a farm you get our your acres I'd sooner root for that than a handout with the arms embargo
It'll be my own Zimbabwe so Colin Powell will swallow my bow and arrow and follow that
With his chosen angle to photograph
My ass know a power to recover from all of that, NASTY
All about poverty playing that off happy
Skin too thick in the middle tin o' acne cream or vaseline
You wait till them Somali kids
Give you a take from that Bruce Wayne alley scene
Bring out the marching band
Let 'em play an anthem for our continent
You went and botched the plan
Liberate the mind, but forgot the land
Bring out the marching band
Let 'em play an anthem for our continent
You went and botched the plan
Liberate the mind, but forgot the land

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>