

Can't Break It to My Heart (Re-Recorded)

Tracy Lawrence

I've never felt as helpless as I do today
My world just fell around me as I watched you drive away
There's nothing left between us somehow we've grown apart
'Cause I've got it through my head, I just can't break it to my heart I can't believe this is me on the hurtin' side
of pain
Sifting through the ashes still tryin' to find a flame
But the flames have turned to embers left glowing in the dark Yes, I've got it through my head I just can't break it to my heart If I could Lord knows I would spin back the hands of time
And piece these scattered memories that are cluttered in my mind
Or pick up where we left off and make a brand new start
'Cause I've got it through my head I just can't break it to my heart I can't believe this is me on the hurtin' side of pain
Sifting through the ashes still tryin' to find a flame
But the flames have turned to embers left glowing in the dark
Oh, I've got it through my head I just can't break it to my heart
Oh, I've got it through my head I just can't break it to my heart

Songwriters

STEVE CLARK, KIRK ROTH, TRACY LAWRENCE, ELBERT WEST, EARL CLARK Published by Lyrics Â© MUY BUENO MUSIC GROUP

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>