

Stockholm Syndrome

Phrenia

Passed out, every night I'm trying to find who I was,
The old me would be scared if he could see me now..
I've lost my everything, and now I'd do anything
To forget my present, and get back my past.

I'm in love with my worst enemy,
And who could help me, only breaks me down.
There's no light at end of this tunnel
Because it's all an illusion, and I'm being fooled.

Show me the path
To be whole again,
Bring back the light.
(Bring the light back)

Light me the way,
Fill the emptiness in
My lost soul
(Bring me back the light)

Your happiness isn't in those bottles,
(you foolish child)
You're too lost to realize that your soul is almost dead.

My fear of sanity is stronger than my fear of death,
oh god,
Why have you pushed me down to this corner of hell?

Father please, tell me why don't you help?
Tell me why am I supposed to suffer (give me the answer).
Mother please, tell me why don't you see?
Tell me how can I escape from this body..

Show me the path
To be a whole again,
Bring back the light.
(Bring the light back)

Light me the way,
Fill the emptiness in

My lost soul
(Bring the light back)

Cause I'm so tired of being myself,
I'm tired of being here,
Let me escape,
Let me live again.
