

Nothing

God Forbid

I hear the voice... of an old friend, he calls to me
When I am subdued
Loud as day, I hear this voice call to me in distress
What to do, I feel the presence of another As I walk through the house where he once lived
He means no harm, come to me when confused Helps to relieve doubt, lead me through ups and downs, I call him a friend My one true friend, always there to help
Me through my darkness
What to do, I feel the presence
Nothing, nothing, nothing, nothing...
