Everything Is Burning

Ivan & Alyosha

Does your woman take your dreams,
Shine it up and give it some wings?
You have found a beautiful thing,
a beautiful thing.Did your woman break your heart?
Didnt know who you really are?
Shes the kind of girl who needs to drive
a brand-new car.And theres a bridge
That will cross sea.
There is a life you should be living;
Everything is burning.Did she get inside your head,
All the stupid things that youve said?
Shes the only reason you get out of bed.Beautiful and lovely is she:
Wouldnt find one who would disagree.
Standing beside every decent man
theres a better woman.And as I live,
The less Im feeling.
She brings me back among the living.
And I guess I am learning,
Everything is burning.Why is it every time I come to California its on fire?
This is where we should fall in love:
Theres something in the water.And as I live,
The less I feel
Dont know whats fake or what is real
And I guess I am learning,
Everything is burning,
everything is burning,
everything is burning.
