

Control and the Urge to Pray

Saosin

[Verse 1]

I've already been there
A broken lock
Inside a rotting idea of a heart
You'll never find it
You took my name
On top a desolate mountain of hope[Chorus]
I saw it frame by frame
We'll take it all apart
Until there's nothing left to blame
I saw it frame by frame
(Perfect the weakest thread, until the bitter end)
You never see it and (Within my eyes)
Before you know it will be gone[Verse 2]
I've never heard of
A patient prayer
Within a chorus of unending [?]
I've already been there
It feels the same
Inside a rotting idea of a heartIf you write it down
It feels the same[Chorus][Bridge]
Always a race to keep you dragging on
Until the currents change
Our days it pays to keep from burning out
You used to care
