

I Can Still Feel You (feat. Thompson Square)

Blues Traveler

The cool grass underneath our feet
Nothing between us but the summer heat
We were free and we were young
We were wild and ready to run The taste of rain upon your lips
Your wet skin on my finger tips
You trembled as I traced the drops
I remember thinking, baby please don't stop Every time that it starts to storm
Every time I hear that thunder roar
I can still feel you
So I'm standing in the pouring rain
So I can live that night again
I can still feel you
ooooo I can still feel you
That's a the night that I wont forget Every inch of us soaking wet
It all started with a long, slow kiss
You whispered I never felt like this As the rain started coming down
Our clothes slowly touched the ground
I saw the warmth in your eyes and for the first time I felt so alive Every time that it starts to storm
Every time I hear that thunder roar
I can still feel you
So I'm standing in the pouring rain
Just to live that night again
Oh, I can still feel you
ooooo I can still feel you
yes I do hey
One day our eyes will meet again but until then I wait until it starts to storm
I pray until the thunder roars
So I can just feel you woa
oh yea
Yeah I stand out in the pouring rain
(pouring rain)
So I can live that night again
(night again)
So I can feel the empty space
So I can just see your face

Oh ohh I can feel you Cause I can still feel you
I can still feel you
