Grant Lee Buffalo

How can I give a testimony of my life?
When I'm still trying hard to hold my head up high
I'm trying so hard to hold my head up high And every time I turn around
Feel as though I've let you down
Always something else
And every time I turn around
Feel as though I've let you down
But I can't outrun myself How can I give a testimony of my time?
When it's so hard to pen a simple valentine
It weighs a little heavy on my mind And every time I turn around
Feel as though I've let you down
Always something else
And every time I turn around
Feel as though I've let you down
But I can't outrun myself Oh oh you know
If I told you once
I've told you loads before
I couldn't love you more And every time I turn around
Feel as though I've let you down
Always something else
And every time I turn around
Feel as though I've let you down
But I can't outrun myself
No oh oh oh
But I can't outrun myself
