Rainfall (Single Version)

A Flock of Seagulls

(M. Score, E. Berner, D. Pichette, A.J. Mazzetti) since you've been gone it's been raining hard like crystal teardrops to the floor it's even raining in my heart I'll close my eyes and let it pour now see how the rain falls
now see how the rain falls and in the darkness of the night a trace was left by your perfume the only thing you couldn't take are the golden memories of you
now see how the rain falls
now see how the rain falls
across an ocean wide a voice that calls your name a love that never dies like an eternal flame across the great divide for all eternity across all space and time the heart that beats is mine since you've been gone it's been raining hard but now the sun shines high above and I won't miss you anymore 'cos I've found another love
now see how the rain falls
now see how the rain falls

Songwriters
PANTON, RODNEY KARL/SAWHNEY, NITIN/WRITER UNKNOWNPublished by Lyrics Â© EMI Music Publishing

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/