I Want It to End But Not Like This

Jesse Ruben

Take all your thoughts
And leave me the sad ones
The ones that are poisoned
The ones that keep you up
Realize what's wrong
And see that it's perfect
I know that you've heard it
But you haven't heard it enough
I hate that you're hurting
I hate that you're hurting, honey
And I'm pretty certain you're wrong
I hate that you're hurting
I hate that you're hurting, honey
I thought this was working so long
She doesn't need me anymore
She doesn't need me anymore
I'm still pleading like before
She doesn't need me anymore
So take all your flaws
And leave me the best ones
The ones without question
That make you who you are
Teach me to talk
So you will not miss it
I'm weary and twisted
We make this way too hard
I hate that you're hurting
I hate that you're hurting, honey
And I'm pretty certain you're wrong
I hate that you're hurting
I hate that you're hurting, honey
I thought this was working so long
She doesn't need me anymore
She doesn't need me anymore
I'm still pleading like before
She doesn't need me anymore
