

Lost Boys Calling (The Legend of 1900 Version)

Roger Waters

Come, hold me now, I am not gone
I would not leave you here alone
In this dead calm beneath the waves
I can still hear those lost boys calling You could not speak, you were afraid
To take the risk of being left again
And so you tipped your hat and waved and then
You turned back up the gangway of that steel tomb again And in Mott street in July
When I hear those seabirds cry
I hold the child, the child in the man
The child that we leave behind And in Mott street in July
When I hear those seabirds cry
I hold the child, the child in the man
The child that we leave behind The spotlight fades, the boys disband
The final notes lie mute upon the sand
And in the silence of the grave
I can still hear those lost boys calling We left them there when they were young
The men were gone until the west was won
And now there's nothing left but time to kill
You never took us fishin' dad and now you never will And in Mott street in July
When I hear those seabirds cry
I hold the child, the child in the man
The child that we leave behind

Songwriters

MORRICONE, ENNIO / WATERS, ROGER Published by

Lyrics © Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC, Warner/Chappell Music, Inc. Song Discussions is protected by U.S.
Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>