Try to Survive

Chimaira

A new day arises
As the city sleeps
No compromising
No promises to keepWe stand on our own again
The rain falls hard
Revealing the memories
Ten years goneThe life we share
Doesn't mean anything
If we don't try to survive
Try to survive, try to surviveVisions overloading
Pulling me through time
Back to the moment
When I realized that our demise
Could have been caused by my handBeen through just about everything
But we're still here
We still have so much to prove to ourselvesThe life we share
Doesn't mean anything
If we don't try to survive
Try to survive, try to surviveThere is so much left for us to do
Will you join me again?
I know, I haven't been reliable in the past
You have had a hard time figuring me outBut I can promise you one thing, one thing
I can promise you one thing
This journey's taught me to stand strong
Never again will ISurrender my fears, surrender my dreams
Surrender my soul to the infection
Surrender my fears, surrender
Surrender my dreams, surrender
Surrender my soul to the infection

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/