The Beautiful Ones (909 Radio Edit)

Monarchy

We're standing together
A world to discover
Your body's a shelter
Breath in with your lungs
Dream adolescence
Leave the past for the present
Live in the moment
It's time to awakeThe beautiful ones
We're only smiling at you
And the Grey can watch us throw our love around
The beautiful ones
We're always shining so true
When the morning comes we'll be chasing something newWe bleed on together
Your tears taste of heather
Lying together
We're safe in my arms
We stand by the river
Our fears washed by heaven
A taste of forever
We're singing our psalmsThe beautiful ones
We're only smiling at you
And the Grey can watch us throw our love around
The beautiful ones
We're always shining so true
When the morning comes we'll be chasing something new
