

Must Be You

Josh Joplin Group

I think therefore I think I am
I can't make my mind up

And I can't make you understandHow I get distracted, how I search for things to say
How I let myself, get myself into my way

I love to hear you talk, it's funny but it's trueWhat gets into me must be you
What gets into me must be youI'm always late but it's really not my fault

Time just hates me, that's why it made me an adult

If wisdom comes with age then I haven't got a clueWhat gets into me must be you
What gets into me must be youTurn off your clock, sleep in today

There isn't a job that cannot wait

I cannot wait to be home with youI might be walking and I might just laugh out loud
At something you said in the middle of a crowd

Let the people stare, I can't tell 'em what to doWhat gets into me must be you
What gets into me must be you

What gets into me must be youMust be you
Must be you
Must be you
