I Have My Moments

Blues Traveler

Picture a spinning toy laden with adventure
Coupled with the things I've told and a dream can be as one
That I have my moments now and again
I said I have my moments now and againStarted in a dream
Wound him up on a baseball team
Took it on the road
A B-17 with a hefty loadFull of cargo and of spice
Yeah a pirate ship who craves advice
From the likes of Peter Pan
You know I hear he's wanted by the law againPicture a spinning toy laden with adventure
Coupled with the things I've told and a dream can be as one
Said I have my moments now and again
I said I have my moments now and againNow the tiger's got his eye
What shall we do, oh me oh my?
Better hide your daughters
Yeah, we're in shark infested watersBut the children can't be harmed
Yeah, they are on to you and heavily armed
With a leaf and a kazoo
How can they be any use to you?Take me, take me for a ride
On the biggest, largest
Vehicle you can ever possibly imagine
Get the keys let's go, driveGonna ride off in the sunrise
Gotta win our Nobel prize
Gee, I wonder what we'll say
Do our homework on the wayGonna meet the king of France
Tell him, "Je n'ai pas de pantelons"
Give his cigar a light
Then slip away unnoticed into the nightPicture a spinning toy laden with adventure
Coupled with the things I've told and a dream can be as one
Said I have my moments now and again
I said I have my moments now and again
I said I have my moments now and again
