

Real Love

NoMeansNo

Real love is scary
You try to hide when it looks for you
You never know what it will do
    Not real love
    Not real love
Real love is a long stone bed, he said
    His face a mask of indifference
    And it don't care about me or you
    Not real love
    Not real love
    Real love on a sunny day
    Is a crow on a telephone pole
    With something to say
    And you feel like someone
    Has just walked on your grave
    That's real love
    That's real love
    The glory of love
    The glory of love
    That precious rain
    That falls from above
    First a gentle murmur
    That calls from the heart
    And then a great wind
    That will blow you apart
    That's real love
    That's real love
Like a ghost it will pass right through you
    A spirit that lives on
    When you are through
And there is nothing that you can do
    The wind in the trees
    The smell of wet leaves
    The rumble of a passing truck
    A streak of blood
Please forgive me for what I've done to you
And lord forgive me for what I'm going to do
    In the name of...

Real love is scary
You try to hide when it looks for you
    You never know what it will do
    And it don't care about me or you
And there is nothing you can do about
    Real love
    Anyway, that's what I heard a crow say
    But who cares what a crow say anyway?
    Especially about something, something
        Something so strictly personal
        (Real love)
        Can you feel it?
    Can you feel it? That wind on your face
    You can get down on your knees and pray
        But nothing that you do or say
        Will make it go away
        (Real love)
    It's like thunder, like lightning
        The way you love me
        The way you love me
        The way you love me
        It's frightening
