

Fool Me Again

Nicolette Larson

Here I am making life I'm over you when I know I am not that strong.
And there you are saying that it's easy to when days like these they seldom come along

And look at me
pretending I can say goodbye when
even if I could,
if I would well
I could lie and say I'm leaving but I'd just be fooling me again.
There's so much I still believe in
fool me again...

And if I knew
I could get away from you I let you go and not hold on.
And if you said that you didn't love me then tomorrow you'd awake and find me gone

And look at me
pretending I can say goodbye when
even if I could
if I would well.
I could lie and say I'm leaving
but I'd just be fooling me again.
There's so much I still believe in
fool me again

I could lie and say I'm leaving
but I'd just be fooling me again
there's so much I still believe in

fool me again...
