

Take The World (Beat Ventriloquists Remix)

She Wants Revenge

The words that no one speaks
About the night before
She stares off at the road
Her finger taps the door
I'd hate to judge if roles reverse
You'd think so tooShe'd seen the film before
But stayed until the end
She had him to herself
Perhaps as more than friends
Maybe I'd do things differently
If I were youYour pulse, it races with mine
And I swear that there's no other girl
Your body shakes, it's like tonight
We can take the world
Your pulse, it races with mine
And I swear we can take the worldHis hand against her cheek
Her tongue against his neck
She says, "You're awfully sweet
I feel like we connect"
Maybe it's love, how would she know
And would she tell?The clothes, they're going slow
She thinks of what to say
He whispers in her ear
She smiles and looks away
Her heart, it screams, she grabs his hands
And says, "Me too"Your pulse, it races with mine
And I swear that there's no other girl
Your body shakes, it's like tonight
We can take the world
Your pulse, it races with mine
And I swear we can take the worldIs this the life, the one you imagined?
Is this the life, the one from your dreams?
Is this the life, the one you imagined?
Is this the life, the one from your dreams?Is this the life, the one you imagined?
Is this the life, the one from your dreams?
Is this the life, the one you imagined?
Is this the life, the one from your dreams?Your pulse, it races with mine
And I swear that there's no other girl
Your body shakes, it's like tonight

We can take the world
Your pulse, it races with mine
And I swear we can take the world
