

Wherein Lies Continue

Slipknot

Thou shalt not kill your fathers, destroy another life
Question everything we clung to for years
Live forever, design a better death
Confuse a liar with a savior from fear Create a myth and separate the chosen ones
Adolescent independence, dominion
I only wanna believe in fuckin anything
But now my conscience is contradicting everything The endings the same
The world will not change
The answer is clear Tell your mothers they have no sons or daughters
Blame yourselves because your children are mine
We are orphans but we are not forgotten
And we will find a way to save us this time We can run but we are tired of running
Were dropping seconds in a glass till we die
We only wanna believe in fuckin everything
But were alive and were not accepting anything The endings the same
The world will not change
The answer is clear, annihilation I wont control or restrain things I do not understand
Now I realize Im stronger, better
They gave to me, now I give to you
The means to burn the thoughts I had
Now I realize Im stronger, better, more We have to save ourselves
We have to save ourselves
We have to save ourselves We have to save ourselves
We have to save ourselves
We have to save ourselves Oh, I will never become another piece
Inside the paralytic construct I hate
Live forever? Well, I would rather die
At least Id know I wasnt theirs to create This is yours but you had better choose
Before they take away your right to decide
I guess Ill never believe in fuckin anything
But my solace is I can handle everything The endings the same
The world will not change
The answer is clear, obliteration I wont control or restrain things I do not understand
Now I realize Im stronger, better
They gave to me, now I give to you
The means to burn the thoughts I had
Now I realize Im stronger, better I wont control or restrain things I do not understand
Now I realize Im stronger, better
They gave to me, now I give to you

The means to burn the thoughts I had
Now I realize Im stronger, better, moreWe have to save ourselves
We have to save ourselves
We have to save ourselvesWe have to save ourselves
We have to save ourselves
We have to save ourselves
