

Come Undone

Edenbridge

I came from miles around to holy ground
The riddance of my soul to take control
So where are you? With all my heart I try
To wish away the big goodbye Whenever you are mine, above the timberline
I'm bound for you aflame with my desire
Whenever I am here, abundantly it's clear
I won't turn tail and run, I come undone You're closer to the bone, a heavy stone
Kicking up a storm, a pain so warm
Shall I give in? As straight as die my friend
The road has come to an end Whenever you are mine, above the timberline
I'm bound for you aflame with my desire
Whenever I am here, abundantly it's clear
I won't turn tail and run, I come undone Where I turn and I steer, it's all hope and fear
The current of time, the only port of call
Can save me from the fall, can set it all alight Whenever you are mine, above the timberline
I'm bound for you aflame with my desire
Whenever I am here, abundantly it's clear
I won't turn tail and run, I come undone
