Touch

Jadis

I can hear you across the water
But your touch is miles away
Deep within this strange asylum
Voices will stay

Try to close the doors behind you
Just enough to ease the pain
When choking with emotion
I need to restrain

Years spent in purity and grace
Have you ever wondered how beautiful it
Is in life's embrace?
Is it happening now?
Am I finding a way?

Someday these prayers will all come true
Waiting is the answer to sanctify
The feelings left for you

Is it happening now?
Am I finding a way?
