

If You See Her, Say Hello

Jeff Buckley

If you see her, say hello, she might be in Tangier
She left here last early spring, is livin' there I hear
Say for me that I'm all right though new things come and go
She might think that I've forgotten her but don't tell her it isn't so
We had a falling-out, like lovers often will
But to think of how she left that night, still gives me a chill
And though our separation, well it pissed me to the heart
She still lives on inside of me, we've never been apart
If you're making love to her, kiss her for the kid
Who always has respected her for doing what she did
For I know it had to be that way, it was written in the cards
But the bitter taste still lingers on, it all came down so hard
Well, I meet a lot of people as I make the rounds
And I hear her name here and there as I go from town to town
And I've never gotten used to it, I've just learned to turn it off
Well, either I'm too sensitive or else I'm just gettin' soft
If you see her
Sundown, yellow moon, I replay the past
I know every scene by heart 'cause they all went by so fast
If she's passin' back this way, I'm not that hard to find
Tell her, she can look me up if she's got the time
Tell her, she can look me up if she's got the time
