

Right Here, Right Now (feat. Kylie Minogue)

Giorgio Moroder

When the lights start flashing, you can open up your eyes
And the highest mountain is the one that you have climbed

Yeah, I can live for long till the skies ain't blue
I can live for long to get over you
I can live for long for a deeper kiss
Nothing ever felt as good as this

Staring in your eyes, I see the sunrise
There's nowhere else but right here, right now
No deeper feeling, this is the real thing
There's nowhere else but right here, right now

There's nowhere else but right here, right now

It's a never ending, promise of the holy grail
But the space I'm in it feels so real
Gotta sit back and exhale

It's the way you hold me tonight
Cause the way you hold me tonight
Makes me feel like there's no place I'd rather be
Than right here, right now tonight

You're right here, right now tonight
