

Going Going Gone (Re-Recorded)

Lee Greenwood

It's over, I left the door unlocked again
But this time someone new walked in
While she was all aloneAnd he told her that there was much more life to see
Than she would ever see with me
Now she's going, going, goneIt's over, I never thought I'd see this day
When everything would walk away
That I depended on God, he'll hold herTo make sure she don't change her mind
I've lost her all the way this time
She's going, going, goneI should have paid attention, there were many warning signs
But I just never thought she'd walk away
Here I stand in silence, just an echo of the words
I heard her sayShe said, it's over and much too late to change her mind
I've lost her all the way this time
She's going, going, gone
