Second Skin

Widespread Panic

This is the season
These are the waking days
Throw off your wet sheets
Step into the soft paradeHollowed and glisten
Like sweat on a moving train
Baby, listen, we're about to be born againCome down, this is your second skin
Surround, oh, this is your second skin
This is the love inside
These are your fears you hide awayMaybe it's a burden
Maybe it's nature's gift
They stretch and they burn
All the colors you're working withThis is a cleaning
These are the shapes we've taken in
Real life is our dreaming
This is our second skinCome down, this is your second skin
Surround, oh, this is your second skin
This is the love inside
These are your fears and pride todayThis is just another story
Whisper the walk you walk
Magic and glory
This is just flesh from talkThis is a moment
This is the time to choose
This is your hour
Nothing but skin to loseCome down, this is your second skin
Surround, this is your second skin
This is the love inside
These are your fears you hide awayCome down, this is your second skin
Surround, this is your second skin
This is the love inside
These are your fears, your pride today
