Way Back When

Buck 65

Why do you act like a friend
When it's only pretend
I'll turn my back
The other face comes through
Your changing everyday
Follow what others say
We know your fake
You cant be yourselfOnce again your all alone
Brought this upon yourself
Wasting your breath
Now what's it worth
I could care less about what you think
Who do you have to be your friend
To be your friend, to be your friend...
