All In Your Hands

Lamb

I've been so excited since I knew I was gonna be with you
Now, everyday the sun will shine on me from your eyes
I'm on a train to you and it's just not fast enough
Every second takes an hour and I can't sit stillYou waited so long and so patiently for me to be Sure I could trust the light in your eyes that shined
Now it's all in your hands and it feels so beautiful
Now you can lay them on me as much as you likeThe things that you do to me make me tremble
Just one look from your eyes makes me weak
There's no greater love than the way I feel
Now I've let myself love youYou waited so long and so patiently for me to be Sure I could trust the light in your eyes that shined
Now it's all in your hands and it feels so beautiful
Now you can lay them on me as much as you likeNow it's all in your hands and it feels so beautiful
Now you can lay them on me as much as you like
Yeah, it's all in your hands and it feels so beautifulNow you can lay them on me as much as you like
Lay them on me, baby, as much as you like
Lay them on me, baby, as much as you like
