

Datasream (D.Native Remix)

Scandroid

I feel so far from my home

Till the lights start fading

Streets come alive in the night when we're alone Your thoughts are naked tonight

In this neon glow

Lit up like a firefly our circuits are aligned and ready to go Open yourself to me we better entwine

Breathing in binary our systems inline

Searching for frequencies and scanning through time

Both lost in the datasream that's leaking our minds

Now I don't feel so alone

When the lights start fading

We bathe in the shadow of the city far above Come hide away with me tonight

In this neon home

Glowing like a firefly the datasream online and ready to flow Open yourself to me we better entwine

Breathing in binary our systems inline

Searching for frequencies and scanning through time

Both lost in the datasream that's leaking our minds Open yourself to me we better entwine

Breathing in binary our systems inline

Searching for frequencies and scanning through time

Both lost in the datasream

Open yourself to me we better entwine

Breathing in binary our systems inline

Searching for frequencies and scanning through time

Both lost in the datasream that's leaking our minds
