

The Struggle

Pretty Ugly

If I could slow you down, down for an hour
I'd show you that tonight the world, the world is so small
 Here is me and you, here is the mission
 The distance, the race, the miles to crawl
 They got us cornered in
 You're afraid to leave the house
 The whole place is surrounded now
 This is the way, this is the way out, the way out
 This is everything that's right
 If they want a war, this is the struggle, the struggle
 This is more then justified
 This is getting out alive
 And every single night i'm asking the question
 What they're trying to hide, they built the fence so tall
 And every single day is just like the other
 Tailored and pressed, one size fits all

 They got us cornered in
 You're afraid to leave the house
 The whole place is surrounded now
We'll watch them from the hills the night we leave
 We'll light the match and slowly fall asleep
 You see the fireworks will take over the street
They'll breathe the smoke and quickly fall asleep
 They got us cornered in
 You're afraid to leave the house
 The whole place is surrounded now
 This is more than just a fight
 This is everything that's right
 This is our last battle cry
 We're getting out alive
