

Teenage Daughter

Dog Is Dead

Uh, uh, uh
She's a China doll with a teenage daughter
I've seen it all before, but I never thought of warn you when we're struggling to think straight
There's another change in us
And we both knew this time Tell me old foe, you remember where we started?
All caught up in love shaking hands and fickle hearted
And I remember you were puffy eyed in the morning
Save yourself for another guy Aah
Aah
Aah
I get used to it Aah
Aah
Aah
I get used to it She's a China doll with a teenage daughter
I've seen it all before but I thought you knew better
And she'll never look the same way
There's another change in her
And we both knew this time Aah
Aah
Aah
I get used to it Aah
Aah
Aah
I get used to it Ooh, ooh
Ooh, ooh Aah
Aah
Aah
I get used to it Aah
Aah
Aah
I get used to it Aah
Aah
Aah
Ooh
Woah oh

Songwriters

MILTON, ROBERT JAMES / COLE, LAWRENCE / HARRISON-WILDER, JOSIAH PETER GEORGE /

LIBOR, LAWRENCE HENRY WILLIAM / WHITE, ROBERTPublished by Lyrics Â© Universal Music Publishing Group Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnllyrics.com/>