

The Hunger

Fred Mollin & Lori Yates

Close your eyes and walk the endless path to sleep.
No good-byes, and no more promises to keep.
Light the light and follow closely as you lead.
It ends tonight, fills the emptiness and need.

You must give in.
You must give in.
A game that you can't win, the hunger.

Darkness aches and tears away the strongest heart.
The music plays. The fire burns the soul apart.
The fever breaks. Cool rain is falling on our bed.
The time has come.
The hunger's longing to be fed.

You can't turn back.
You can't turn back.
The night bleeds in black, the hunger.

You must give in.
You must give in.
A game that you can't win, the hunger.

The hunger.
The hunger.
The hunger.
