Promise

Randy

Promise me that you won't
Let me fall asleep tonight
So I don't wake up tomorrow
One day older than todayPromise me you won't weep
If I die tonight in my sleep
Well, no matter what
You can't avoid the great big leapCareless souls natures wonder
A storm is coming closer over yonder
But then again don't you knowAll the pretty ones die young
And they're better of that way
All the wicked ones die young
And they're better of that wayPromise me that you won't
Let me fall asleep tonight
So I don't wake up tomorrow
One day older than todayEither swine or man
Survive and struggle as long as you can Either the problem or solution
There is nothing in between themVictory or come death
Revolutionary 'til the final breath
But then again don't you knowAll the pretty ones die young
And they're better of that way
All the wicked ones die young
And they're better of that wayAll the pretty ones die young
And they're better of that way
All the wicked ones, pretty ones, wicked onesAll the pretty ones die young
All the wicked ones die young
All the pretty ones die young
And they're better of that wayAll the wicked ones die young
And they're better of that way
All the pretty ones die young
And they're better of that wayAll the wicked ones die young
And they're better of that way
All the pretty ones die young
And they're better of that wayAll the pretty ones die young
And they're better of that way
All the wicked ones, pretty ones
Wicked ones die youngAll the pretty ones die young
And they're better of that way
All the wicked ones die young

And they're better of that wayAll the pretty ones die young
And they're better of that way
All the wicked ones, pretty ones
Wicked ones die young
