

Well Alright

Jools Holland & His Rhythm & Blues Orchestra

In the twinklin' of an eye
Girl you had me hypnotized
And I didn't care a thing about love
But I quickly start believin'
'Cause I found myself a reason in you
Yeah I've got a thang for you And when I think
Think of the way I used to be
I was always all alone
Always doin' somethin' wrong
And when I think
Think of the change you brought to me
Girl I wonder why it took you so long? Well alright
Well okay baby
I finally done me somethin' right
I've got you in my life
Well alright
Well okay baby
I finally done me somethin' right
I've got you, got you, got you in my life
(Got you, got you, got you in my life)
(Got you in my life) Oh it was deep within my heart
Where the feelin' had to start
I had reason to believe it was love
And I'm sure that's what it was
'Cause I've never felt so much in me
Yeah, you brought love into me And when I think
Think of the way things used to be
I was always much too cold
I was always all alone
And when I think baby
Think of the love you brought to me
I don't know how I could've ever get along Well alright
Well okay baby
I finally done me somethin' right
I've got you in my life
Well alright
Well okay baby
I finally done me somethin' right
I've got you in my life In this wake of happiness

I can't help but feel blessed
From you baby
'Cause of you girl
For the first time in my life
I know, I've done it right
I fell in love with you Well alright
Well okay baby
I finally done me somethin' right
I've got you in my life
Well alright
Well okay baby
I finally done me somethin' right
I've got you in my life Well alright
Well okay baby
I finally done me somethin' right
I've got you, in my life
Well alright
Well okay baby
I finally done me somethin' right
I've got you, in my life Well alright
Well okay baby
I finally done me somethin' right
I've got you, in my life
