Arms Raised

Close Your Eyes

I lift my hands to the sky, You're my desire
My hopes and dreams they are of You
I lift my hands to the sky for Your consuming fire
So bright it burns, what's left is YoursLet's goSo many idle words have fallen from my lips
They pour just like the blood that fell from Your side
You gave up everything just to give me a second chance
And I won't take that for granted anymoreI found the plans that I have made were in vain, won't make things better
I finally found my way and I know that
All I needed was to find the truth and I found You
I will never look back, I will never look backI'm letting go of my regret
I'm tearing down these walls I put up so long ago
You gave up everything just to give me a second chance
I won't take that for granted anymoreI found the plans that I have made were in vain, won't make things better
I finally found my way and I know that
All I needed was to find the truth and I found You
I will never look back, I will never look backWith my eyes fixed on You I know I cannot be moved
With my eyes fixed on You I cannot be moved
With my eyes fixed on You I know I cannot be moved
With my eyes fixed on You I cannot be movedYou gave up everything just to give me a second chance
I won't take that for granted anymoreI lift my hands to the sky, You're my desire
My hopes and dreams they are of You
I lift my hands to the sky for Your consuming fire
So bright it burns, what's left is YoursAnd I must confess, I am nothing without You
I am on my knees screaming take me home
