Invitation

Switchblade Symphony

So they visit you, in the dead of night
They make love aloneThey say that it's all right, that it's Just the same
Do you like them?
Do you want them?
They have chosen you,To take a trip
To take a trip
They've invited you,
They bring promisesOf a nearly perfect way
So they reach for you
With their fragile hands,
With beauty and such graceIt's you that they've embraced
They are not the sameDo you like?
Do you like?
Do you like them?Do you want them?
Where they never fight, you'll never fell misplaced
They've invited you to a special place
They are not the sameSo they've captured you,
No matter what you do,
To take you far away[?]
They are just the same
