Fool Out Of Me

Idina Menzel

Hey, just when you think you are the shit
Well, you look down and your fly is unzipped
That's when you take a moment to say
"Well, sometimes I'm so, so totally unhip"
Just when the great ones inspire you
To throw caution to the wind
And that's when the mirror the mirror on the wall says
"Babe, you better throw your towel in"
All that I don't know paralyzes me
But somehow I keep going on just to settling for this mediocrity yeah
And I wonder if God is trying to make a fool out of me
Wonder if God is trying to make a fool out of me
Wonder if God is trying to make a fool out of me
There are legends who die and I've never even heard their songs
And there are heroes of a generation whose poetry is not on my shelf
And my soliloquies would make Shakespeare turn over in his grave
And voyagers would forbid me to join in their crusade
All that I don't know Paralyzes me
But somehow I keep going on just to settling for this mediocrity
I wonder if God is trying to make a fool out of me
Wonder if God is trying to make a fool out of me
Wonder if God is trying to make a fool out of me
Wonder if God is trying to make a fool out of me
Well I wish I could fight against Ali and win
I wish I could write with Joni Mitchell's pen
Sail the Atlantic on a paddle boat
I wish I could smile like Bobby De Niro
And I wish I that the lotto was the number of my telephone
I wish I could sing a duet with Bono 'cause I don't want to sound
Like anyone else you know I just wanna take you under my spell
Excuse me for saying
What I know down deep is my sin
Maybe I'll fool everybody into thinking
I know what just what I am doing
And I wonder if God is trying to make a fool out of me
Wonder if God is trying to make a fool out of me
Wonder if God is trying to make a fool out of me
Wonder if God is trying to make a fool out of me
Wonder if God is trying to Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/