

Disappearing Act

The Ready Set

God I love it looks so sweet
Do I get another chance to taste it?
I've been dreaming of broken teeth
Cold sweat, vision blurred and faded
There's a ghost standing next to me
In the dark I saw my own reflection
It was nothing like it used to be False start! (Losing my direction)Fearing the sun would never come to the shadow of who I was Wishing on empty stars to put me back togetherI'm in the place here you found me
I hid away trying to chase down gold
But I became my surrounding (yeah!)
She said "You're disappearing act is getting old!"
I'm in the place here you found me
I hid away trying to chase down gold
But I became my surrounding (yeah!)She said "You're disappearing act is getting old!"
Run out of of my disillusion 2xAnd I know that I will get back up
But does it really matter what we're saying
Here at the bottom of a plastic cup?
Where forget all that we loved and we hated
I learned the sun will always rise
Here to the ones with hazy eyes
Swinging from empty stars, falling down together
I'm in the place here you found me
I hid away trying to chase down gold
But I became my surrounding (yeah!)
She said "You're disappearing act is getting old!"
I'm in the place here you found me
I hid away trying to chase down gold
But I became my surrounding (yeah!)
She said "You're disappearing act is getting old!"
Run out of of my disillusion 2x
Everybody wants a savior, but there's no saints to see
If you want it just grow 10 feet tall and take all that you need
We are not hollow projections on a blurry tv screen
I'm not scared to fall, no not at all
The sky belongs to me 2x
I'm in the place here you found me
I hid away trying to chase down gold
But I became my surrounding (yeah!)

She said "You're disappearing act is getting old!"

I'm in the place here you found me

I hid away trying to chase down gold

But I became my surrounding (yeah!)

She said "You're disappearing act is getting old!"

Run out of of my disillusion 2x
