

Rebel

Phazer

One day, it will be the day that I will walk alone.
I can call the road my own and guess why have you gone.

My friends, they are not like me and I hardly believe.
I've got so many ways to choose, only one to achieve.

Oh, I want the light,
I want the reason to awake.
Oh, my gullet is tight and all my scraps you take.

My time is never enough,
my age is running fast.
I try to hide from love
but that's never enough.
That's never quite enough.

Walked away from the dark but I'll never get to wonderland.
My wrath is fed by love
but that's never enough.
That's never quite enough

My hands are asleep,
can I take your love as mine?
I ask you, please have mercy,
take your time.

I'm falling on my knees
regretting my lost dreams.
Past memories coming back but now that is enough.
Now that is quite enough

My ways were never enough.
I want to make it right for now,
and that will be enough.

I'll never felt so great,
I'll never felt so great!

My hands are asleep,
can I take your love as mine?
I ask you, please have mercy.
Take your time.

Rebel, Rebel, Rebel,
without a Soul!
Rebel, Rebel, Rebel,
without a Soul!

You're a rebel, I'm a rebel,
but I'll never feel that great.
