Feelin' Alright

drumfish

Well Im tired
Of people keep on asking me these questions
They come around and scrutinize the details
And they will not walk away
And I can hear them sayThat Im starving
It seems I can never find the information
I know its my hopeless lack of concentration
I hunger for the past
I have gorged myself with memoriesBut Im feelin alright, Im feelin alright, Im feelin alrightWell Im searching
Im trying to find some meaning for my life
A way to pass my years with some dignity
And I cant find my way
I hope one day I mightAnd I love you
Thats not gonna change, its forever
You come and sit beside me as an endeavor
I can not understand
Its all falling away but Im feelin alrighgBut Im feelin alright, Im feelin alright, Im feelin alrightI cannot rely on anything that I can touch
Some corner of my mind is all there is thats real
And I may stray quite far away from me
But Ill returnAn ocean
I spend much of my time just thinking about the ocean
I can sense it all around me with lucidity
A warm place in the sun
Leave my life undoneIm telling stories
The children they all gather round and listen
I impart to them the endless possibilities
Years of life to come
My time in the sun, Im feelin alrightI have not returned in years there is much comfort here
The place inside my mind is like my shell, my life
The years have passed and how my will
That I could go back homeIm feelin alright
Im feelin alright

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/