Man Of Two Minds

The Trews

Tryin' to build a bridge across my hearts divide
Caught between two opposite signs
I want it all and I can't decide
If I should leave you here or stay with you a while
I love you, I love her, I need you, I need her
I'm always gonna love you, I'm always gonna love her
I guess I should just let this thing die
'Cause I am a man of two minds
Standin' all alone by the river side
Runnin' out of reasons I can justify
What kind of man am I?
Who can tell a lie and look you in the eye? Yeah

I love you, I love her, I need you, I need her
I'm always gonna love you, I'm always gonna love her
I guess I should just let this thing die
'Cause I am a man of two minds
Not much to say, no alibi
For my selfish fear and foolish pride
I love you, I love her, I need you, I need her
I'm always gonna love you, I'm always gonna love her
I guess I should just let this thing die
'Cause I am a man of two minds
