Limp

i can tell that you're not amused with the things that we used to do i = remember that you used to be in the middle right next to me think you = thought it was time to leave must of thought you'd seen everything now = your baggage is bitterness guess nothing was as sweet as this and.... = i've seen your past in front of me i've heard the words that you've said = you're not the only one around who seems so serious and i guess i really = didn't realize friends of mine could be this way it's not your fault you = had to change i just wanted it to stay the same and... so now i'm = sitting here in doubt - of myself you're not the cause of it don't = flatter yourself i'm really sorry that you seem to feel this way and i'm = really sorry that you seem to feel this way sometimes i find it rather = hard to forget some things you said weren't really that bad but it's a = promise you made to me said the words and didn't mean a thing
