

Paraffin

Samiam

your mouth grew into your mind no longer afraid to say what you think you?e realized that you?e not as small as they would like you to believe don? feign approval anymore and don? you you shy away they are the ones who?l choke on their words believe what you say they threaten and manipulate shadows afraid of the light that creates them they spit in your face to test you they only show when it? safe don? feign approval anymore and don? you you shy away they are the ones who?l choke on their words believe what you say drawn to each poleyou can be swayed with a voice in each ear they coax you away you never took the time to weigh your thoughts you never thought you could be held responsible they are the ones who?l choke on their words believe what you say

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>