

Ash

Ellegarden

Ash

Translation : Hibiki

You give everything a smart conclusion
Despite your saddest face in the world

Your mind is in doubt, your fingers lose purposes
Let's take your delusion and make it propultion

After all, we found something

Out of all disputes and quarrels

After a sleepless night, wrapped in a blanket

I looked up the window and saw some morning light coming in

We won't become mild gentlemen
So we fight against sad memories

No need to pretend you are a wise man
Because you take your delusion and make it propultion

After all, we found something

Out of all disputes and quarrels

After a sleepless night, wrapped in a blanket

I looked up the window and saw some morning light coming in

My name is Jack
Just tell me you are ok
My name is Jack
I've been standing next to you
In the storyboard
You can draw another one of your own

After all, we found something

Out of all disputes and quarrels

After a sleepless night, wrapped in a blanket

I looked up the window and saw some morning light coming in

Lyrics submitted by Ene.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlrics.com/>