Cathy's Clown

You Am I

The weightlifter and a library tech you know
Made a big decision in the magazine row
I'll open my catalog, just enough to let you in
And she'll drop beers like you drop vitaminsDid you ever, never, wanna let somebody down?
Was you ever thinking that you'd be Cathy's clown
Now she's around?The protein pills and the G-strings you left in her flat
Are just enough to get your Dewey Decimal back
You lift her to work, just before your daily workout begins
And she'll stack up like you stack vitaminsDid you ever, never, wanna let somebody down?
Was you ever thinking that you'd be Cathy's clown
Now she's around? Hey
