Start All Over

Shannon McNally

All this dreaming will drive me crazy
But is it dreaming if it's all I ever do?
The days are bleeding, they just run together
The nights are cold in the deep of MinnesotaFrom where I lie, I can see the airport
I watch them land and I see them leave
So many things that I've never done
So much ends before it's begunAnd I'm so tired, I could cry
I'm so tired, I lie awake at nightWatching the moonlight circle my head
It's just about as blue as blue can get
When I get out of this bed
It's gonna start all over againMississippi sun doesn't shine this far north
I'm dreaming of peaches and bare tanned knees
A place that's warm, where they just let you be
Where you can stay forever 'cause the rent is freeAnd I'm so tired, I could cry
I' m so tired, all I can do is sighWatching the moonlight circle my head
It's just about as blue as blue can get
When I get out of this bed
It's gonna start all over again
