Song for You

The Second String Band

The greatest story I ever heard
Was of a man too big for this world
Tall as the mountains wide as the seas
And just as clear and blue
The greatest story I heard from you

The deepest sleep that I ever fell
Was in tonight I spent by myself
And on your shoulder dancing heartbeat
The light of the moon
The deepest sleep there next to you

Ooohhh
Oohhhooohh

The sweetest song that I ever sang
I heard it once then it drifted away
And now I canâ€™t remember the words
But I still hear the tunes
The sweetest song I wrote for you

And when I run Iâ€™m running fast
And when I walk Iâ€™m going slow
Iâ€™ve got this pounding in my heart
Got this burning in my bones
And when sing Iâ€™m singing high
And when I talk Iâ€™m talking low
And this home was meant to last
But this house you can let go

Ooohhh
Oohhhooohh
Oohhhooohh
Oohhhooohh

And when I run Iâ€™m running fast
And when I walk Iâ€™m going slow
Iâ€™ve got this pounding in my heart
Got this burning in my bones
And when sing Iâ€™m singing high

And when I talk Iâ€™m talking low
And this home was meant to last
But this house

And when I run Iâ€™m running fast
And when I walk Iâ€™m going slow
Iâ€™ve got this pounding in my heart
Got this burning in my bones
And when sing Iâ€™m singing high
And when I talk Iâ€™m talking low
And this home was meant to last
But this house you can let go

Lyrics Submitted by Bryan

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/