Purple Sky

Killigrew

purple skies and violet rainbows and all the angels passing by with their words they try to break you but they can't shake you with all their lies another day we will survive another day is worth the fight today we will rise
we will walk the rainbows and take over the sky don't let them change you no
'cause you are beautiful just like the purple sky black mirrors with no reflection broken hearts and rejection record times make the sound that call the angels homeward bound another day we will survive
today we will rise
we will walk the rainbows and take over the sky

these are the words and these are the choices we are the children, we are the voices this is the life and these are the questions this is the time we're being tested these are the words and these are the choices
we are the children, we are the voices
don't let them change you
you are beautiful Tyler and Phoebe Eric and Billy (we remember) Megan and Raymond Seth and Justin (we remember) April and Brandon Matthew and Jared (we remember) Meredith and Jefferey Zack and Asher we remember 'cause you're beautiful just like the purple sky
