

Birds

Perry Acker

I am a bird in song
In the early morning
And I can fly.

With my friends we sing the songs that carry us through the day
Through the niiiiiiiiight.
Over the greatest trees,
and the widest seas...
...In perfect symmetry.

Then I woke up
And I could not
And well I couldn't believe my mind
With no surprise I had seen why
You would fall to the power of lies.

Never will I cease to compromise
My dreamin' eyes, they keep me alive.
Afloat in the sea, with all that I see.

The sun is burnin' down your shade,
Even on cloudy days, but you can't escape.
You should find some rain.

Then you'll come to
The distraction of findin'
Yourself and all this time I could see that You're waitin'
For the one thing to fix your life.

And never will I fall into the sea
Wishin' that time had set me free to find this all
On my own.

I'm gasping in the ocean air,
beggin' my thoughts alone to bear
the strength of all I know.
