

Surprise Surprise (Live Version)

X

Surprise, surprise, there's a man downstage
Surprise, surprise, I'm in a bar
Surprise, surprise, it's my turn to play
I'm overworked and underpaid I drive to work in a rented bus
200 miles or more a day
Just so that you can get a look at us
And figure out if we're worth you paid Too many potential flings
Too many bands to depend
Over 60,000 miles, I traveled
To drink more beer than Al Capone bottled
And did he bottle Well, I used to live the nightlife
But now the nightlife's livin' me
Too many times I had too many
Because there's too many people watchin' me
They're watchin' me Surprise, surprise, I remember them all
Surprise, surprise, we ain't pissed them off
Surprise, surprise, I kind of miss the past
Surprise, surprise, it went by so fast Surprise, surprise, surprise, surprise
Surprise, surprise, surprise, surprise Surprise, surprise

Songwriters

Cervenka Christine; Nommensen John Duchac Published by WARNER-TAMERLANE PUBLISHING CORP.; FAITH HOPE AND CHARITY MUSIC

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>